Re: Application – Technology Operations Associate

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am excited to apply for the Technology Operations Associate role at A&O IT Group. I bring over three years of progressive IT support experience at PATH, where I have worked across Level 1 and Level 2 support environments, delivering reliable technical assistance, system administration, and infrastructure support in hybrid Windows environments. My experience aligns closely with this role's focus on strong service delivery, SLA-driven support, and continuous improvement in IT operations.

In my current and previous roles, I have provided end-user support across Microsoft 365, Windows 10/11, Active Directory, VPN, and network environments, supporting over 120 users across multiple locations. I have hands-on experience with ticketing systems (Freshdesk), ITIL-based workflows, incident management, and maintaining accurate documentation and knowledge bases. I also hold relevant certifications including Microsoft Certified: Azure Fundamentals (AZ-900), Cisco Certified Network Associate (CCNA), Google and IBM Technical Support Professional Certifications, and the GitHub Professional Certificate, which reinforce my technical foundation in cloud, networking, and IT service delivery.

Beyond core support responsibilities, I have developed a strong interest in automation and process improvement. I have worked with PowerShell, Python, and Bash for basic scripting and troubleshooting, and I am actively building skills in Microsoft Azure and data-driven tools such as Power BI. I am particularly motivated by opportunities to contribute to automation initiatives using Microsoft Power Platform and AI-enabled workflows, aligning well with A&O IT Group's focus on innovation and operational efficiency.

I am highly motivated, detail-oriented, and passionate about delivering excellent user support while continuously improving technical systems and processes. I would welcome the opportunity to contribute to A&O IT Group's global support team and grow within an environment that values innovation, collaboration, and service excellence.

Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,
Meshack Ariri
